PWA APPROVES SEWER BID

Work Scheduled To Start
December 9 As Council
Formally Awards Contract

The proposal of the Oakland Sewer Construction Company to complete the first unit of the Placerville sewer improvement for $3,926.10 has been approved by the PWA offices at San Francisco and the contract to do the work was awarded formally by the city council to that firm on Friday morning.

The contract provides for a start of work on the unit—to lay approximately four thousand feet of six-inch pipe with man holes and connections extending easterly from Washington Street to the city limits—on December 9.

Under the terms by which the city receives a grant of $34,000 from the government through the PWA to assist in the project, work must be started not later than December 11.

The bid of the Oakland Sewer Construction Company was the lowest of three bids which were found on file when the city council met last Monday evening to receive bids on the project.

Upon being advised that the low bidder was a reputable concern, the members of the council recommended to the PWA the acceptance of the low bid. The council on Thursday afternoon received word from the PWA approving the recommendation and, accordingly, the contract was awarded on Friday morning.

FOREST FIRE LOSS DROPS

Increased Public Caution
Credited By Forester For Abnormally Low Figure

SAN FRANCISCO.—Increased public caution with fire, the fire fighting activities of the CCC and Forest Service protective forces, favorable climatic conditions and new and more effective facilities for the detection and suppression of forest fires were the factors credited for this year's abnormally low fire record in the national forests of California according to a preliminary report just recorded by Regional Forester S. B. Show of the United States Forest Service.

Since January 1 a total of 1450 forest fires within national forests of California burned over 15,931 acres, in comparison with 1681 fires which burned over 78,571 acres of timber and brush areas during the same period in 1936. Included with figures for the present year were fires on private land within the boundaries of national forests which burned 3,121 acres and were fought by federal fire-fighting forces. Total cost for fire suppression chargeable to fire-fighting funds was $126,706 or about one-half the sum expended for fire control last year.

Regional Forester Show, under whom function 18 national forest containing over 19,250,000 acres of land in California and southwestern Nevada, commences his duties today.

Petty Theft Draws Fine

Former Bartender Placed On Probation For Six Months In Uncle's Care

Walter Neilson, 24, former Placerville bartender, pleaded guilty Friday afternoon to a charge of petty theft before Justice of the Peace T. F. Lewis.

He also pleaded that when he took approximately $46 from his employer's cash register, he was under the influence of liquor and of "bad company."

Neilson had been arrested at Sacramento following his disappearance from Placerville Wednesday night.

His uncle came to Placerville Friday to see what could be done to help Neilson get started on the right track again and agreed with Justice of the Peace Lewis that he will be responsible for Neilson's probation.

The court granted Neilson probation on condition that he pay a fine of $10 and make full restitution for the amount taken.

"And another thing," said Judge Lewis, "you report to your uncle regularly, get out of bad company and stay out, and comply with the other terms of your probation. If you don't, we'll have to come and get you."

"If he doesn't," the uncle volunteered, "I'll bring him to you."

THREE FINED $35 EACH, 5 TERMS SUSPENDED IN LIQUOR CASES

Three persons charged with selling liquor to minors were fined $35 each, and five minors were given suspended sentences on charges of purchasing liquor at hearings Friday morning before Justice of the Peace T. F. Lewis.

George Davenport and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Watkins were those who pleaded guilty to charges of selling liquor to minors. Each, individually, was fined as indicated.

The five minors were given suspended sentences and released on probation. They were charged under the new section of the state liquor control act which makes it an offense for a minor to buy liquor as well as an offense for the dealer to sell liquor to a minor.

The arrests were the result of investigations made by J. W. Caswell, state liquor control officer for this county, supported by county officials.

Fred Wessels was a Friday caller from Shingle Springs.

Mrs. Hetty Sickles and daughter, Eleanor, came down from Phillips Station on Thursday and continued Friday to San Francisco to be with their daughter and sister, Miss Louise Sickles, who is recovering from a severe cold.

KILLER HANGED ON FOLSOM GALLOWS

Sheriff Smith Attends
First Execution Under
New Prison Warden

Warden Clyde I. Plummer completed his first "unpleasant duty" at Folsom Prison Friday morning when he supervised the execution of Charles McGuire, 30-year-old Sacramento murderer.

Sheriff George M. Smith was among the group of official witnesses and newspapermen who saw the loquacious handyman climb the thirteen steps and drop through the trap at 10:03 a. m. He was pronounced dead by prison physicians twelve minutes later.

He faced the "last mile" with a stolid countenance. As guards began the death watch outside his cell door last night McGuire asked for detective magazines, requested several phonograph records be played. He seemed cheerful after a visit from a Catholic priest.

McGuire's loquacity proved the cause of his undoing.

After staging the crime he hopped a freight train and confided to an eastern medical student who was on a "bumming" tour "I had to plug a guy when he put up a battle." The student notified authorities, who took McGuire off the train at Gold Run.

A companion, George Rotosky, was captured shortly afterward and is doing a life sentence at San Quentin prison.

ELECTION FOR C. OF C. BEGINS

Only One Ballot This Year
As Membership Selects
Eight For Directors

In preparation for the annual election of directors of El Dorado County Chamber of Commerce, which closes on December 20, the nominating committee has met and certified with Secretary Wallace M. Ripley a membership roster of seventy-eight in good standing.

Ripley announced Friday morning that in keeping with the action of the organization a year ago, only one ballot will be mailed in this year's election and the eight members receiving the highest number of votes will be declared elected directors for a term of two years.

Under the new plan as adopted a year ago, only seven directors would be chosen this year, but the resignation of J. R. Johnson, who was elected last year as one of the group to serve a two-year-term, has altered the original plan in this respect. Mr. Johnson has moved to Auburn.

The seven other directors who were elected last year for a two-year-term are Henry S. Lyon, Homer P. Brown, M. T. Kelly, Lloyd A. Raffetto, L. J. Anderson, Guy E. Wentworth and Charles Doe. Their names, on the ballot to be mailed the membership, will be marked with a character indicating that they are directors and should be exempted from the present election.

The directors who were elected last year for a one-year term and whose terms expire this year are Max Baer, Cyril Heusner, Edwin P. Smith, M. E. Raber, A. H. Murray, Swift Berry, Don Goodrich.

Highway Patrol Change Asked

Initiative Measure To Put
Police Under Supervision
Of Commission Is Sought

SAN FRANCISCO, Drastic reorganization of the state highway commission and the California highway patrol was recommended today by the California State Automobile Association and the Automobile Club of Southern California.

In a joint announcement, the two automobile associations disclosed they will place an initiative measure on the November general election ballot with these principal provisions:

1. Transfer of the California highway patrol from the department of motor vehicles to the highway commission.

2. Organization of a new highway commission with a full-time group of five salaried members. This commission would have complete charge of state highway affairs, including not only construction, maintenance and allocation of funds, but law enforcement and promotion of traffic safety on the highways.

"In many important respects," the announcement said, "the new highway commission would occupy a position comparable to that of the California railroad commission."

Christmas Is Coming

So many days until Christmas—worn the newspapers. Whether it arouses us joy or anxiety depends upon our age, sense of responsibility, and the relative size of our hearts and of our pocketbooks.

To the child, the days drag slowly. To him who makes obligations lightly, it means little. It stirs only anger in the Scrooges. To him of great heart, but small purse, it strikes terror. The will to give so great, the wherewithal so small!

No use burying our heads in the sands, the annual extravaganza is just around the corner. To face it boldly and plan wisely is the only satisfactory solution.

Make two lists: one of those to whom you will send cards and the other to whom you will send gifts. Order your Christmas cards at once. Cut down, as much as you can, the card list, since cards cost money, too. Transfer from the present list about half the names there. Give gifts only to those whom you love so very dearly that you must present to them some little token of your heart's affection. To such, the loving thought, the personal touch and the appropriateness of the gift are worth infinitely more than its cash value. Home made gifts are ideal for these.

But we do have an obligation to another type of people; the children, the sick and shut-ins, the aged, the lonely and the poor. Here's hope—but not faith—that you may this year solve those perplexing Christmas problems.

Correct Lighting

Now that days are shorter and home evenings longer, the housewife is concerned with the quantity and quality of electric light available in her rooms. She knows that this affects the family purse, the efficiency of her household, their dispositions and the cheerfulness of the home atmosphere. Poor lighting is hard on the eyes and makes for nervousness and irritability.

Wasteful practices in the use of electric current are: too many lights, lights when they are not needed, the use of poor bulbs and lamps which consume current but do not furnish the light they should, lamp shades which are closed at the top or which do not flare sufficiently at the base and so do not throw into the room the light they give off, and dark colored shades which absorb light, as black, brown, red or blue.

The ideal lighting is ample, soft, well diffused, indirect, and as much like daylight as possible. Blue "daylight" bulbs are good, but must be stronger than clear bulbs since the blue absorbs some of the light. Yellow is the best color for the lampshade as it resembles sunshine. The frosted bulb, opaque mantle, inverted bowl or cone or hidden light eliminate the harmful glare and help to distribute the light.

The living room demands two kinds of light: the general light in the ceiling or side walls to illuminate the whole room and the floor or table lamp beside each reading or work center. It is economy to have the latter lamp of the three-strength type which one may turn up or down as we did our oil lamps in the olden days.

The hall lamp should be cheery to make a pleasing first impression on corners. Bed-room and bath-room require a light each side of the mirror to make it easy to get milady's powder on straight and every hair off milord's chin. For safety stairways must be well lighted and so arranged that the lights may be turned on and off from upper and lower floors. Porch and garage lights are necessities and one should be able to turn these on or off from indoors.

When building a new house, it is important to have a number of outlets in each room, along the base-board for portable lamps, and in the ceiling for general lighting. Only one expert should be entrusted with this job, to avoid fire hazard. Care must be taken that the circuit is not overloaded. Old-fashioned light systems may be success-

This & That

By The Tattletale

This story has been going the rounds for sometime yet most of the people in Placerville are unacquainted with it. It concerns a certain gospel team who visited the city some time ago and were conducting services in a local church. One of the young men in the team had passed over Hangtown Creek without noticing it was more than a mere creek and decided to use it in his talk. When he warmed up to his subject he reminded his audience how prone man is to partake of the good things of life without being cognizant of their origin. To emphasize his point and bring it home to the listeners he spoke "of the beautiful little stream that flows so gaily through the town. You drink of its waters but you forget its source!"

Whether or not it was intentional or not, the following announcement makes a good story. It happened at the end of a dinner at one of the local churches the other night and was made by the pastor. "Let us all rise and sing 'Blessed be the Pie that Binds,'" said he with as straight a face as one could ask for.

"Fellows," said our cat, Trotsky (so called because of the numerous times he has disrupted the house) as we all began to yawn towards bed time the other night, "I don't like to criticize but if you don't mind my jawing (Heaven knows I have to listen to you enough) I would like to say a few words. I know it is unusual for a cat to speak up after all, I am an unusual cat if I do say so myself. Perhaps living with such great minds has made me so. Be that as it may, my point is simply this:—of all the columns I have read of yours, none have mentioned the most important piece of legislation which is being considered by Congress today. I am referring, of course, to Senator La Follette's proposal to take the power of declaring wars (except cases of actual invasion) out of the hands of Congress and requiring it to be submitted to a vote of the people. Although this measure has not had much publicity as yet—say, I hope I'm not boring you, am I?"

"Indeed not," we gulped, not having fully gotten over our amazement. "go on with your story."

"You look bored enough—but anyway, wars affect even cats. Look at the short rations we got during the last war—watered milk—ugh! Furthermore, there surely is no other issue in the world today about which the people (especially in a democracy) should have a definite voice—they not only have to fight for it but their children have to pay for it. Why not write to your Congressman and see if we can't get some action. I certainly would if I could buy a stamp."

"We certainly will," we stuttered. "but right now we had better get to bed—we're just a little dizzy from all this."

And to those that don't believe our cat talked—well, here it is in black and white and we were there.

Parallel Parking May Be Del Paso Order

In an attempt to curtail the number of automobile accidents in the city of North Sacramento, and to eliminate the congested parking situation on Del Paso Boulevard, the authorities are considering the feasibility of introducing parallel parking along the thoroughfare, reports the Sacramento office of the National Automobile Club. Also, the city is making provision for better lighting of side streets leading into Del Paso boulevard.

CALIFORNIA ALUMNI SHOULD WRITE FOR ROSE BOWL SEATS

BERKELEY—Alumni of the University of California expecting to receive ticket applications for the Rose Bowl game between California and Alabama by virtue of their membership in the California Alumni Association, should receive their application blanks by December 6.

Those who have moved since last July, when address lists were last compiled by the A. S. U. C. Ticket Committee, probably will not receive their applications, since they are non-forwardable. These alumni, and any others failing to receive their blanks, should write or wire the California Alumni Association, Berkeley, stating their case. The deadline for alumni ticket applications has been set for Friday, December 10, when applications must be in the Pasadena ticket office. Alumni who have moved, if feasible, should return to their former address and attempt to locate their precious applications, before asking for new blanks.

Forest Fire Loss Drops

mended the many forest visitors who showed increased cooperation in keeping fire out of the timber and brush lands of the mountains. His report revealed that man-caused forest fires decreased 23 per cent in contrast to the figure for the corresponding period in 1936.

"The outstanding element in the reduction of fire damage in this region, and in other forest areas of the United States, is the increased respect which the public has for its forest playgrounds," Show stated. "From forest rangers and supervisors I hear continual praise for the thousands of campers, fishermen, hunters and other forest visitors who for the most part were especially careful this year with their burning cigarettes and matches and campfires."

Show also acclaimed the services of CCC enrollees who were active in putting out the large forest fires that occurred and who also assisted in the suppression of many small fires.

Enrollees from 92 CCC camps were available for immediate call throughout the fire season. Radios were listed as playing an important role in fire suppression as was also the use of several contracted airplanes employed in scouting burning fires. Trail-builder-tractors, water pumps and other equipment were employed to advantage at many fires this season. High speed transportation, made possible by more extensive road systems than have been available in the past, accounted for the corraling of many small fires before they had gained large proportions.

The effectiveness of these factors in the preservation of the forests was brought out by Regional Forester Show in his comparisons of this year's fire statistics with figures for the same period last year. The 1937 record shows a reduction of 14 per cent in the number of fires and a decline of 80 per cent in the acreage burned, to date. These figures were attained by a decrease of 48 per cent in this year's cost of fire fighting. The saving of many thousands of acres from destruction by fire will ultimately amount to an increase in natural resources such as water supply, which is regulated by forest cover; animal and bird life; recreational facilities; timber products and grazing lands. Show said.

With the forest fire season not yet ended in all national forest areas of California foresters continue to caution motorists and outdoor recreationists to use care with campfire and cigarette at all times of the year. Despite fall rains, eight forest fires recently broke out in the Sierra National Forest. Three man-caused forest fires were fought at the same time in the Angeles, Cleveland and San Bernardino national forests.

24 FOREIGN COUNTRIES COOPERATING IN SEAL SALE

Not only are Christmas Seals being sold in the United States at the present time, but in 24 foreign countries throughout the world as well, reported Dr. F. M. Pottenger of Monrovia, Secretary of the California Tuberculosis Association. Christmas Seals bearing the double barred cross, the established emblem of the International crusade against tuberculosis, are to be found as far north at Point Barrow, Alaska and Iceland, and as far south as the southern-most tip of Argentina and New Zealand.

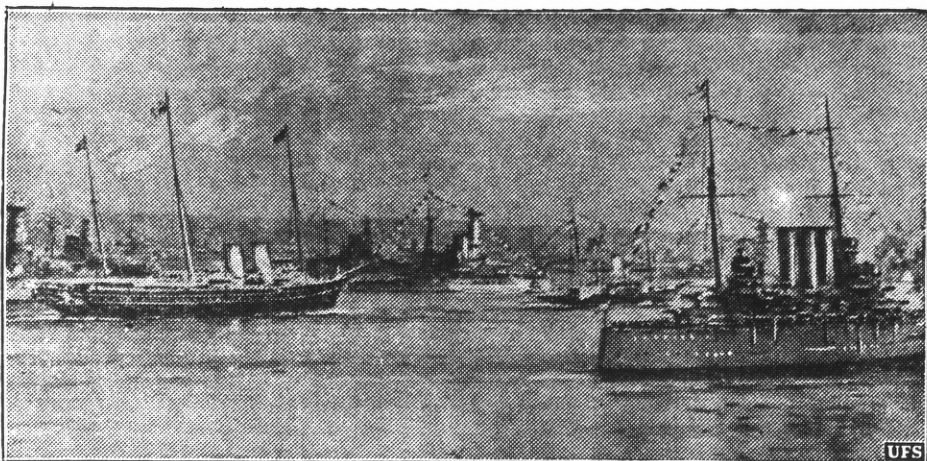

"Forty-three nations belong to the International Union Against Tuberculosis," said Dr. Pottenger, "and while all are not issuing seals this year, they are actively engaged in programs designed to combat this disease. Leading among the 24 foreign countries conducting seal sales this year are France, Italy, England, Japan, Belgium, Norway, Sweden and Denmark. The U. S. has the largest sale of any country, however, nearly half a billion Christmas Seals being sold here in 1936."

NEW LIMESTONE CAVE FOUND IN KERN COUNTY BY PARTY ON PROSPECTING TRIP MAY BECOME ONE OF STATE'S ATTRACTIONS FOR TOURISTS

GLENDALE, (U)—An exploration party returning from the Piute mountains north of here described today discovery of a mammoth cavern of great beauty.

Robert C. Golden, Glendale prospector, discovered the cave five miles from Scovern's hot springs in Kern county. He explored it with a party of friends, including W. S. Kellogg, publisher of the Glendale News-Press.

Members of the party descended with the aid of a winch and steel cable through a 150-foot tunnel under a limestone cliff on Erskine creek. Through an opening just big enough for a man they entered a domed chamber. Beautiful stalactites dropped from the ceiling and stalagmites rose from the floor.

Off this cave was a second room with red-hued walls.

"Some of the formations appear like castles, some like frozen waterfalls, and some like fairyland pictures and painted in vivid colors," said Golden. "One of the passageways was lined with twisted, conical forms hanging like great drapes from the ceiling. They stood like organ pipe in one corner."

Passageways led off possibly into other unexplored chambers. Two miles from the shaft by which they entered, Golden said there was another tunnel.

He expressed belief that the discovery would become one of California's major tourist attractions.

5 Policemen Return 'Irene' To Bed

NEW YORK, (U)—Mrs. Amanda Siebert, 57, was back in her bed today, thanks to five policemen. Suffering from a cold, she fell from bed and neighbors who heard the thump, guessed its cause and called police.

Mrs. Siebert, known to carnival patrons as "Jolly Irene," weighs 650 pounds.

Packaging of fancy packed dried fruit for the holiday trade has started at Delano.

"MICKEY MOUSE" BANNED AS POLITICAL BY JUGOSLAVIA

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (U)—Mickey Mouse was absent from the comic strip page of the newspaper Politika for the second time today because of alleged "anti-monarchist" ideas in the story. Authorities ordered the strip for today banned. They charged that the issue was "anti-monarchist" and "rebellious."

The comic strip story has related that the uncle of a ruling king had been greatly alarmed at the King's growing popularity. The uncle did not know that Mickey had been substituting for the King. They being exact doubles.

The strip was banned when the story reached the point where the uncle started organizing a conspiracy to overthrow the King.

UNEMPLOYED IN STATE INSURANCE PLAN SHOULD REGISTER

SACRAMENTO. —California unemployed workers who have made contributions to the Unemployment Trust Fund today were asked to register for work at the office of the California State Employment Service nearest their home.

This request, according to John S. Horn, member of the Unemployment Reserves Commission, was made to insure prompt payment of unemployment benefits to this group of workers after January 1, 1938.

Horn pointed out that the Unemployment Act requires an individual to apply for work before he is permitted to apply for unemployment compensation.

Immediately after making application for work, the California State Employment Service will make every effort to place the individual in gainful employment. No benefits are paid, of course.

MICHIGAN MAY RENEW GRID RELATIONS WITH "IRISH"

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (U)—Michigan's Wolverines, who taught the game of football to the "Fighting Irish" of Notre Dame back in 1887, will resume gridiron relations with their one-time pupils by 1941, athletic officials of the two schools believed today.

It was 28 years ago—1909—that they last met and Notre Dame won 11 to 3. Charges and counter charges of using "ineligible" players ended a series that had run intermittently for 22 years. Relations in other athletics were terminated in 1924.

The Board of Directors of the New-castle Fruit Growers' Association has voted to distribute $45,210 in refunds, based on the gross sales for the season of 1936.

210,000 Get First Chance At 85,000 Rose Bowl Seats

If Some Of Them Don't Want To Go, Then Perhaps General Public Will Have Opportunity To See Bears Battle Alabama In Pasadena New Year's Day Classic

By JACK GUENTHER
United Press Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, (U)—Citizens of this Rose Bowl community awoke today and found themselves apparently forced to stay away from the football game they built from a neighborhood attraction into a national classic.

The ticket sales office opened complete with telephones, clerks and an oversupply of customers, but with little prospect of anything to sell. There wasn't even anyone for the indignant residents to blame, except the Bowl for being too small, or the University of California for being too large.

The situation is this: California, the western representative, is host to Alabama and this city alike. All ticket arrangements are in charge of the Golden Bear officials, who first must fill the needs of the alumni, the rooters, the stadium subscribers and the "Big C" society members. These number 33,000 persons, each of whom is entitled to buy six tickets, or a total of 198,000.

Additionally, substantial blocks of seats must be reserved for Alabama supporters and the City of Pasadena, which purchases admission for the bands, marchers and officials who make up the Tournament of Roses parade. Thus, the potential applications already number approximately 210,000, and the big arroyo seco saucer can hold only 85,000 persons.

BERKELEY BANS RALLY ON NIGHT BEFORE "BIG GAME"

BERKELEY, (UP)—The University of California student body executive committee has voted to abandon future "Big Game" rallies preceding the annual California-Stanford football contest.

The action resulted from riots by students and "helpers" the night of Nov. 19 when football-frenzied crowds inflicted $10,000 damage on Berkeley property and injured six policemen and firemen.

To replace the discarded bonfire, the executive committee voted approval of a "mixer rally" which would be held on the Friday morning preceding the game.

Nine persons involved in the riots have already been given the choice of paying $200 fine or serving 100-day jail sentences.

Deer Damage Considered By Legislative Committee

SACRAMENTO, — Three state senators, comprising an interim committee, a number of officials and complaining citizens sat down Thursday to see what could be done about the roving deer of northern California.

George Sehlmeier, master of the state Grange, viewed it as a serious problem—the damage the deer were causing to farm property.

To Miss Kate Parker, Sonoma county orchardist, it was a plain headache. The deer eat so much of her apricot, olive, and cherry trees, berry there, announced they will take up the question of water pollution and the salmon-steelhead situation before adjourning after a hearing.

bushes and strawberry plants that she can't produce enough to pay the taxes, she said.

Armand Cassassa, Sonoma county fruit grower, said he had to put up a strong fence to protect his fruit trees. Cost: $2.75 a rod.

Let the state pay the damages, proposed H. J. Bodie of Napa county. Why not electrically charged fences, asked Executive Officer Herbert C. Davis of the fish and game commission.

Sehlmeier said it's not practical for the individual farmer to fence his property. He advocated deer preserves.

The three senators, Frank L. Gordon of Suisun, the chairman; Charles L. Deul of Chico and Harry C. Westover of Santa Ana left the matter

B. E. Haslam, vice-president of the El Dorado County Farm Bureau, attended the hearing in the interest of farmers in that district.

MOTORISTS URGED TO COOPERATE IN LICENSE RENEWAL

Wait until you receive your postcard notification from the Department of Motor Vehicles before sending in your license renewal application.

This was the advice given today by Howard E. Deems, registrar of vehicles.

Deems pointed out:

"A number of people already have sent in their renewal applications but in the vast majority of instances they have sent checks or money orders for the wrong amounts. Hence these applications must be returned and the entire process gone through again.

"The postcard notifications for all pleasure car owners will be mailed out two days after Christmas with the renewal period scheduled to start January 3.

"New licenses for 1938 will be issued between January 3 and February 4, inclusive. Penalties for non-payment become effective after February 4.

"Postcard notifications for truck owners were mailed out December 1 and applications for truck license plates will be received anytime during December. This arrangement was made in order to facilitate the application of fleet owners. However, no license plates, even for these trucks will be issued before January 3."

Members of the Drama Section of the Shakespeare Club are awaiting the curtain call tonight, when they will present two one-act plays at the clubhouse auditorium.

The playlets are, "The Flying Grandmother," with Mrs. Erla Blair in the title role, and "Minerva Sets The Stage," with Mrs. A. A. McKinnon as Minerva.

BRIDE OF 4 MONTHS HAS PRES. ROOSEVELT'S "NUMBER"

NEW YORK, (UP)—A reporter telephoning Rhinelander 4-7428 today got Mrs. John Roosa on the line and Mrs. Roosa was pretty angry about it all.

"No," she snapped. "This is not President Roosevelt's house. I have his old number."

"I'm tired of being called at all hours of the night by newspapermen, by senators from Idaho and the Lord knows where else, by diplomats, cabinet members and friends of the Roosevelt butler."

"Why, the other day I got a call from James Roosevelt, President's son—he didn't know his own number. I've been married only four months and I'd like a little quiet."

"And besides, I'm a Republican."

Pears properly precooled will carry to eastern markets with only the initial icing, although in very hot weather it might be desirable to have one re-icing as a safety measure, is the conclusion reached by L. L. Claypool instructor in Pomology at the College of Agriculture, Davis.

DAFFY DRIVERS

BY NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL

DROWSY DRIVERS

About 2000 traffic deaths are caused each year by sleepy drivers. Some victims are just drowsy when they lose control; others actually have dozed off to sleep. "Nature's sweet restorer" is all right in its place—a nice comfortable bed—but it's bad business to catnap when you drive. Better let someone else take the wheel or pull off the road and take a nap. Asleep-the-wheel accidents are usually serious because there is no chance for defense against the crash.

GANGSTER THREATENED TO KILL LABOR CHIEF, CHARGE

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., (UP)—A corner's jury considered today the testimony of an American Federation of labor member that George (Bugs) Moran, erstwhile Chicago gangster, had threatened to kill labor chief Patrick J. Corcoran a year before he was ambushed and slain Nov. 17.

The evidence, furnished by Frank Dorrance, milk wagon driver and friend of Corcoran, gave new impetus to investigations into charges that gangsters attempted to invade the twin cities labor field.

In St. Paul a Ramsey county grand jury pressed its study of violence in a recent laundry strike. The Commonwealth Club of Minneapolis demanded appointment of a special rackets investigator.

HOME MORTGAGE LOANS AVERAGE 66 MILLION PER MONTH

New home mortgage loans made by all active savings and loan associations in the United States aggregated $660,229,000 in the first ten months of the year, an average of slightly more than $66,000,000 per month, it was reported today by the Federal Home Loan Board to M. M. Hurd, president of the Twelfth District Bank.

Despite the drop in residential building, new home loans made by savings and loan associations have held up unusually well, an indication that these thrift and home-financing institutions are bearing an increasing share of American home mortgage lending.

In the ten months from January to October, inclusive, all active associations reported $182,226,000 in loans for new construction; $232,931,000 for home purchases; $139,043,000 for refinancing; $42,074,000 for reconditioning; and $63,955,000 for other purposes.

FIVE JAILED, ONE SOUGHT IN KANSAS COURT SCANDAL

KANSAS CITY, Mo., (UP)—The widest kind of a search was under way today for George (Frenchy) Andre, who caused a courthouse scandal by selling jury summonses to idle men who wanted to earn $3 a day administering justice.

Frenchy was missing from his haunts which were mostly the sheriff's offices where he was a pal to the deputies while he was stealing their summonses.

Five men, who bought summonses from Frenchy, directly or indirectly, were under arrest and heavy bonds for sitting as dummy jurors, representing men to whom the summonses were sent.

BRITISH ARMY COMMAND REVISED IN DRASTIC SHAKE-UP

LONDON, (UP)—Younger men succeeded to the high command of the British army today in a shake-up regarded as the most important since the world war.

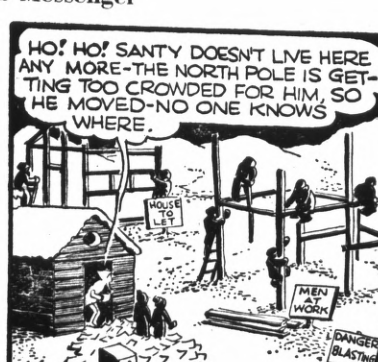

Maj. Gen. Viscount Gort, 51, became a full general and chief of the imperial general staff, succeeding field marshal Sir Cyril Deverell, 63, who had resigned "to facilitate the promotion of younger officers."
